UNDERWRITER SAYS REDUCE FIRE RISK

Waste Should Be Lessened Instead of the Rates Being Increased.

Austin, Texas, June 3.—The Fire Insurance Commission in consideration of the application of the outside stock companies for an advance of 23 1-3 per cent on business representing 80 per cent of the Texas premiums had George W. Jalonick of Dallas on the stand all of Wednesday. His brother was on the stand all day Tuesday. The two control the three Texas fire companies, Austin, Commonwealth and International. New witnesses will be introduced today, probably Mr. Cagle of the Cravens & Cagle general agency of Houston. His attorney, J. F. Wolters, arrived Wednesday.

It is expected that the hearing will suspend Friday evening, but a date to resume has not been fixed. Several more days will be required to complete the case.

Jalonick flatfootedly opposed the 23 1-3 per cent increase asked for by 33 outside companies. "We must first reduce the fire waste and wait a reasonable time for results," he said, "though some few advances should be made. However, advancing rates will not lessen the fire waste." He strongly commended the work of the insurance commission and predicted it is a permanent fixture.

Urged Co-operation With Commission. If the companies co-operate with the commission to reduce fire loss, conditions will materially improve, he said. The excessive losses, he asserted, are due to careless underwriting. He said the shingle roof charge should be increased from 15 to 25 cents and the charge on brick mercantile blocks advanced from 10 to 20 cents, with more raises in the cotton schedules.

Counsel for the merchants vigorously opposed the suggested increase of 10 cents on mercantile blocks.

Commissioner Patterson brought out that 75 per cent of cotton losses are caused by location of compresses and platforms along railroads, suggesting a heavy charge for such locations when adjoining main lines or main switch tracks. He said the insurance companies had done nothing to correct this extreme hazard.

Jalonick did not agree that the general agencies were writing large business volumes solely for the purpose of collecting flat commissions from the companies, saying if carelessness of that kind prevailed other agents would be found.

It was his opinion that the present schedules would produce a profit if uniformity and care were exercised in writing individual risks as could be revealed by close inspection, though some few increases are necessary.

COLLEGE ROAD TO BE IN GOOD SHAPE

President Waldrop of the Commercial Club Arranges With A. & M. People to Drag Road.

Despite the fact that the road from Bryan to College is in a very bad shape owing to the preparations being made to pave same, it is going to be placed in good condition for the commencement exercises at A. & M., which start next week. Citizens of College and Mr. Waldrop of the Commercial Association have arranged to have same dragged. County Judge Maloney has agreed that the county will pay for one-half the expense, while College citizens will pay for the other half.

Announcement is also made that the main bridge, which is on the College road, has been completed and is now in use. This will be gratifying to auto owners, as this place has been very dangerous. The bridge is completed and those going to College can now cross over same.

TAKE POLITICS OUT OF JUSTICE, PLEA OF FARMERS' UNION HEAD

Use of Powers of Office to Advance Personal Ambitions is Crime Against People, Says H. N. Pope.

Fort Worth, Texas.—Taking politics out of justice has been advanced as a cure for injustice by H. N. Pope, president of the Texas Farmers' Union, in a contribution to the Texas Economic League's discussion of the administration of justice, received by that organization. Pope's article says in part:

"The discussion of the administration of justice now going in the press deeply concerns the farmers of this state, for it is they who are the final sufferers from injustice, and I would like to see more of them join in this discussion.

"The farmer of Texas must diligently study government. It is as necessary to his prosperity that he be a capable citizen, as that he be a capable plowman. His welfare depends as much upon sound legislation and capable public officials as it does upon making two pumpkins grow where one grew before. His happiness is as much dependent upon his receiving a fair division of the profits of his labor as it is upon the fertility of the soil. His success is as much dependent upon honest, intelligent and patriotic citizenship as it is upon the diversification of farm products. To secure the blessings of society which are rightly their own, the farmers must organize, think together and vote together. They must be able to separate the theorist from the doer; the braggart from the achiever, and the capable from the incapable, in both men and measures affecting the public weal, and the penalty for failure to do so is poverty, oppression and ruin.

Take Politics Out of Justice

"There have been many able suggestions advanced as a remedy for the injustice which we now endure, and as a farmer I want to give my views on this subject. I would suggest taking politics out of justice as a cure for injustice. When an official of state, whether he be in the legislative, administrative or judiciary department of government, takes an oath of office, he should then and there quit playing politics with the powers of his office.

"The man who takes an oath of office enters into a divine covenant with the people. He has no more right to use his authority in paying political debts than he has to sell the office furniture and pay his grocery bill. He has no more right to use the seal of the great state in advancing his political ambitions than he has to sell state bonds and appropriate the proceeds to his financial credit. An official who violates his oath of office ought to be prosecuted for perjury, and an official who undertakes to pry open the backdoor of fame with a lawsuit, ought to be arrested for burglary.

"The farmers of this state have just cause to complain of the inefficiency of government. The number and the per cent of tenant farmers never were greater, which is a true barometer to agricultural conditions. There never was a time in the history of this nation when prosperity was more completely waylaid on its journey to the farmer, or when misfortune reached him so easily as at present.

Prosperity Waylaid.

"Likewise, the business interests have their troubles. Any political law suit filed against industry ought to be styled 'the Politicians vs. the People,' and the verdict ought to be that the politicians are guilty of slaughtering industry, and they should be sentenced to quit playing politics or resign their office.

"The farmers get too much salvation and not enough co-operation from government; too much politics and not enough business. If the administrative branch of government could give us prosperity by filling political lawsuits, then the tenant farmers would all be rich. If the legislative branch of government could cure the evils of society by increasing the volume of laws, we would have a perfect civilization. If the judiciary branch of government could give us justice by making political speeches from the bench, then we would have no more injustice within our realm.

"The farmer cannot expect in government to reap something he does not sow, any more than he can plant thistles in the soil and harvest grain. It is no more possible to make a statesman out of a politician than it is to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear. The farmers of Texas must face the situation squarely. We are the predominating class, and we cannot escape the responsibilities of government. Upon our shoulders rest largely the destiny of Texas, and upon our ballot the policy of government depends."
